

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effective Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloated sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily and thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanston, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a potent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

The plan of dieting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new fangled breakfast foods simply makes matters worse as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

As Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used is by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised or is sold in drug stores or is protected by a trade mark it must be a humbug whereas as a matter of fact any druggist who is observing that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of catarrh of the stomach, indigestion, heartburn, heart trouble, nervous prostration and run down condition generally than all the patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions for stomach trouble combined.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals. JACK JOHNSON'S STORY OF PHOENIX CLUB LIFE

His Grievance Against the Afro-American Collection Agency.

According to Jack Johnson, colored, though not he of the golden grin and the stiff punch in either hand, the laws of God and man are being grossly violated at the Afro-American club, a resort at the corner of First and Monroe streets.

He complained to Constable Maj. Ivy yesterday that he had been robbed at that place by force and terror. He said that he had been for some time a frequenter of the club for the purpose of gambling, which he asserts is carried on without other restrictions than the financial limitations of the players.

Johnson said that he had been a consistent loser for nearly all the time he has been going to the club though on Sunday his luck turned slightly and he emerged with a little more coin than he took into the club. Encouraged by his success he went back yesterday and in a short time he had won $1.50.

He was preparing to make another haul when a strange negro whose name he had never heard approached him and asked him when he was going to pay him that two dollars he owed him. Said Johnson, "I paid in cash life. I see to him, 'Yo must be funnin'.' I can't understand what you talkin' about."

Others joined the discussion and all agreed that Johnson owed the stranger two dollars, and one man said the debt had to be satisfied then and there. Manager Betts, he said, also told him that he owed the money.

Johnson insisted that he owed no man anything and moreover he would not pay, but the crowd which kept increasing in volume, became more demonstrative and one man drew a big knife and began showing how he could use it if the worst came to the worst.

Johnson, like his namesake is a husky sort of a person and he said: "I ain't no gang fighter an' if yo' all will just scatter a little I'll lick yo' all one at a time." But the crowd did not scatter, but on the contrary became more condensed until finally one of its members seized Johnson by the neck and made ribbons of his collar and the upper part of the shirt.

Johnson then yielded to numbers, he said, and proposed to stop the contention by paying all claims against him. He did so and then hunted an officer. He was taken before Justice Johnston, but nothing could be done in the matter for according to his own relation he was his only witness. All other persons present were on the other side.

But an investigation will be made of his allegation that open and notorious gambling is fostered by the club.

RESPONDED TO ORDER OF EMPEROR WILHELM

Proud Day in the Life of One of the Pasmore Trio Which Will Appear at School of Music Saturday Night.

With an advance sale of more than 300 subscription tickets, the reserved seat sale for the Phoenix recital of the much talked of Pasmore trio will open at 9 o'clock this morning at the Adams pharmacy.

Among the few American artists who have had the honor of being chosen to take part in the annual memorial service which is held in Berlin by order of Emperor Wilhelm, is Dorothy Pasmore, cellist with the famous trio which is to be heard in concert at the Arizona School of Music under the management of Mrs. Shirley Christy next Saturday evening at 9 o'clock.

At the royal concert given in the memorial church of Kaiser Wilhelm the First, this artist gave two cello solos which won the admiration of all who heard them. Dehmow, the famous singer of the Royal opera, appeared on the same program and personally congratulated the young American girl upon the ovation which she received. In addition to the solo numbers the concert included selections by an orchestra of more than one hundred players and a chorus numbering 250 well trained voices.

Wherever the Pasmores appear the cello solos are a wonderfully beautiful part of their programs. Dorothy Pasmore is said to have the greatest depth of tone of any woman violinist now before the public. She was a prize pupil of Anton Kekking, the great German master, and has studied with Professor J. Klengel, of the Leipzig conservatory, and with Jacques van Lier, of Berlin.

The Pasmore trio is this year making its first American tour. Before the close of the present season it will have visited all of the important cities of the United States, Canada and Mexico. The organization has already given more than fifty recitals and the critics are hailing it as "America's finest trio." The tour is under the direction of Fitzpatrick & Norwood, managers of Tilly Koen, the great contralto, and other noted artists.

Kicked Out of His Rights.

It seems in this age that a person who is not in his brightest mood is forced to take a back seat. Any person who does not feel equal to his opportunities should at once go to Elvey & Hulett, where they sell all the principal remedies and do not substitute, and get a treatment of Sexine Pills. FOR GIRLS.

Booth Tarkington, at a dinner in Indianapolis, praised wittily the husband of domestic tastes. "A great match," he said smiling toward a group of pretty Indianapolis girls—"a good match, ladies, is one who never goes out."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

SOCIETY HAS ITS SERIOUS SIDE.

But society has its serious side. The possession of the real artistic temperament—or the artistic temperance, as we might basely say—is essential to its leaders. The humble butler who arranges the floral decorations of a dinner table has no little of an artistic nature. And the woman who can plan with ease and brilliancy an entire season at Newport, R. I., dovetailing her various functions with cleverness and a beautiful realization of their relative importance to her entire household, is not lacking in a minor form of genius. Her dinner dances may not be important to you and to me, but they are to her and her friends. It is the life she has mapped out for herself, or, more often, the life that she has mapped out for her; and a society leader must have many of the qualifications of a monarch—tact, diplomacy, finesse. You may call her insincere; I would call her sincerely insincere. In this day and de-should always be used where several people sit, because it does not strain the eyes of those sitting far from it.

The Famous Rayo

The Lamp with Diffused Light

The Rayo Lamp is constructed to give the maximum diffused white light. Every detail that increases its light-giving value has been included.

The Rayo is a low-priced lamp. You may pay $5, $10 or even $20 for other lamps and get a more expensive container—but you cannot get a better light than the Rayo gives.

This season's Rayo has a new and stronger burner. A strong, durable shade-holder keeps the shade on firm and true. Easy to keep polished, as it is made of solid brass, finished in nickel.

Once a Rayo User, Always One.
